October Ethics Case: Building on Principle

Chapter members may post job listings at no cost; non-members may post listings for $50/month. Visit the Job Bank for more details.

Ethical standards and principles are the foundation for maintaining public trust for every AFP member. Have you ever wondered what you would do when confronted with an ethical dilemma? In our Monthly Ethics Article, AFP Suncoast explores some common quandaries with Case Studies to help you test your knowledge.

October Ethics Case: Building on Principle

You are the vice president for advancement and alumni affairs of a small college. After many months of careful cultivation, you succeed in obtaining a pledge from a famous alum for the largest gift in the college's history. The only catch is, the alum insists that the college put his name on a building that was named for a previous donor (now deceased) as a condition of that alum's gift. You try to persuade the new donor to change his mind, but the donor is insistent.

- A. Should you refuse this gift?
- B. Suppose the new donor agrees to a proposal to name the building jointly for both donors. Would this arrangement pass muster under the "donor consent" standard of the AFP Code?
- C. Suppose the college president and the Board of Trustees vote to rename the building for the new donor. Should you resign?
